What did you particularly like about the workshop?

1. Kimberlea Sanchez was very good at speaking from her heart and what she has learned from her mother.
2. Topic met your expectations – “Somewhat, but not completely.”
3. Information regarding history of Native people.
4. You Tube – Blue-Eyed experience wonderful concept with similar positive outcomes intended.
5. I especially enjoyed Kimberlea Sanchez.
6. Would be a good presentation for non-Native audience. The presenter that shared information about her tribe.
7. Race and the creation of allies.
8. Just informative and should be presented to other races too.
9. I liked Kimberlea’s talk. It was real.
10. Thanks for your passion Kimberlea and sharing your life and mother with us. Stories about visiting the family cemeteries linked to California history was right on point.
11. Ligaya was excellent and professional sharing new information.
12. Informative.
13. Honest, open, theoretical, very much needed and appreciated.
14. Truth!
15. The idea to look at yourself and realize your own bias not to continue to judge others, but to accept and be understanding of other human beings.

Comments:

1. I was expecting interaction rather than lecture. More clinical research like rather than personal or no stories.
2. I was hoping for more ideas to work through lateral oppression and urban vs. reservation issues.
3. Very valuable information.
4. Again, it is to be presented to a larger group of non-Native people.
5. Need more about off reservation.
6. Both presenters are excellent, enjoyed California history and new theory on “isms.”

7. I want to teach children these facts.
8. Might be good to go ahead to make one side of the room dominant, the other side target and do speak out part.
